

Find more local stories at SaltWire.com

EPRA/Recycle My Electronics expansion to include household appliances for safe, secure recycling for residents, businesses and the environment.

Honourable Lisa Dempster, Minister of Environment and Climate Change, the Multi-Materials Stewardship Board (MMSB), along with Michelle Marley, EPRA/Recycle My Electronics Program Director in Newfoundland and Labrador, celebrate this momentous occasion at The City of St. John's Materials Recovery Facility, operated by Scotia Recycling.

"This expansion of accepted products once again demonstrates how Newfoundland and Labrador is taking a leadership role when it comes to keeping more and more items out of our landfills. We applaud the efforts of EPRA to inform and educate the public and businesses alike, about the environment and responsible electronics recycling."
– Honourable Lisa Dempster Minister of Environment and Climate Change

The following list of products has been added to those currently obligated for recycling and diversion from landfill: recyclemyelectronics.ca/nl/what-can-i-recycle

- Floor and carpet care appliances
- Garment care appliances
- Appliances for counter-top cooking
- Devices for cutting food items and opening or sealing containers or packages
- Devices for measuring time
- Personal care appliances
- Scales
- Portable air treatment appliances

In Newfoundland and Labrador, EPRA/Recycle My Electronics maintains a strong commitment to access and convenience. In fact, 93% of the province's population lives within 45 minutes (rural) and 30 minutes (urban) of an EPRA/Recycle My Electronics NL drop-off centre. The recyclemyelectronics.ca/NL website continues to serve as an essential communications pillar between EPRA/Recycle My Electronics and the populations we serve.

Find out what and where to recycle, visit recyclemyelectronics.ca/NL

RECYCLE MY ELECTRONICS

Safe, secure electronics recycling for residents, businesses and the environment.

The future is in your hands. Don't let it go to waste.™

recyclemyelectronics.ca/NL

